WOMEN
Writing the West

2017 Catalog of Authors’ Books
Volume 26
Welcome to Women Writing the West and our 2017 Catalog of Authors’ Books. We take this opportunity to introduce you to books written by WWW authors about the American West. In the catalog, you’ll find fiction and non-fiction, historical and contemporary, books by men and women, young and older writers, and from every part of the West, from Washington State to Maine; from California to Texas. Our inspiration for the WILLA Literary Awards, Willa Cather, once said, “Let your fiction grow out of the land beneath your feet.” The authors of the books in this catalog tell their stories of women in the West in a way that does, indeed, honor the land.

WWW is an inclusive organization that supports male and female authors, editors, agents, publishers, and others who document the role of women in the American West. It was founded in 1994 for the same reasons folks still join—to share the support and comfort of writers who understand the challenges and triumphs that a good book produces or that great writing brings. At the annual writing conference, we present the WILLA Literary Awards, which are open to all authors who write about women’s experiences in the West. Awards are given in seven categories for book-length works: The LAURA Short Fiction Awards, named to honor Laura Ingalls Wilder, recognizes fiction of fewer than 5,000 words written by WWW members. The 2017 conference will be October 26-29 at Loew’s Ventana Canyon Resort in the foothills of the Santa Catalina Mountains in Tucson, Arizona. I encourage you to connect with us on Facebook and visit our website, WomenWritingtheWest.org. You will find information on membership and activities. Once you join, you’ll benefit from our Yahoo listserv, where news is shared and the WWW community connects.

Welcome to Women Writing the West and our 2017 Catalog of Authors’ Books. The 2017 conference will be October 26-29, at Loew’s Ventana Canyon Resort in the foothills of the Santa Catalina Mountains in Tucson, Arizona. This catalog is published annually as a service to our members, providing educational and industry information to our membership and those in the publishing community. THE WIDOW SMALLS & OTHER STORIES
2015 Winner of the High Plains Book Award

Thirty years of hard work, from rancher Paul Small's marriage, to his divorce, and then to his new wife Joy, have left him a man with a heart full of love and a soul filled with passion. But when he meets Leah, a beautiful and independent woman, his world is turned upside down. With Joy's love still burning within him, he must decide whether to stay with Leah or return to the past and try to win back Joy's heart.

Other stories feature characters including star-crossed lovers, young ranchers facing their first test of moral courage, and a father making one last gift for his daughter's love. Each will pull readers into their stories and keep them turning the pages.

2011 WILLA Award Winner UNBROKEN

Ranching is a life of extremes, perhaps even more so on the high plains near Laramie, Wyoming. And no one knows that better than Green Swan, who married both her husband Will and his family ranch. Meg Haidam, an orphaned girl from across the river, is determined to leave the past behind and make a good life for them. But there is little time for reflection as everyone's part in the wheel of the seasons: bringing blessings and triumphs and a rough road for all concerned.

Dawn Wink is a writer whose work explores the beauty and tensions of language, culture, and place. Co-author with Joan Wink of Teaching Passionately: What’s Love Got To Do With It? Wink created a literary, educational blog community, Deseret. (DawnWink.wordpress.com) Associate professor at Santa Fe Community College, Wink lives with her family in Santa Fe, New Mexico. Follow her on Facebook, Twitter, LinkedIn, and Instagram and at DawnWink.com

Meadowlark
Finalist for the 2014 WILLA Award, The 2014 High Plains Book Award and The 2014 Arizona-New Mexico Book Award

Based on a true story, the author provides a crystal clear window into the lives of some of the early settlers on the plains of South Dakota. In 1911, sixteen-year-old Gena finds the same hopes and dreams as any other bride for a future built on love, commitment, and family. But she knows that ranching on the prairie—where the skies soar so deeply—will require years of perseverance, hard work, and suffering. What she doesn’t expect is how quickly she will be required to confront these threats in her heart and her soul.

Coming Soon... LOVE STONES, A Memoir

Raised on a cattle ranch in southeastern Arizona, Dawn Wink’s childhood revolved around family, the land, and the independence of all. Wink assumed those rhythms would continue throughout her life. When her marriage ends, and all of her deeply held Truths about life crumble away, she works to create an life unmarred. Love Stones is a journey of love, grief, loss, and beauty—a journey to the self, and back again.

Each year, the authors of the five winning stories are honored at the WWW Conference. All the short stories are set in the American West, past, present or future and have a female protagonist. The LAURA is named for American writer Laura Ingalls Wilder.

Be part of the excitement next year. The LAURA Awards are open to all WWW members. For rules and application, see WomenWritingtheWest.org/LauraApplication
Congratulations!

The WILLA Literary Awards is a nationally recognized award given annually to writers for books featuring women’s or girls’ stories set in the West. Women Writing the West, a nonprofit association of writers and other professionals writing and promoting the Women’s West, underwrites and presents the awards. Only books initially published and copyrighted in 2016 (in any form) are eligible for the WILLA Literary Awards. In cases where the publication date and copyright date differ, copyright date shall prevail. Books previously released/published in ANY format (hardcover, softcover, e-book, CD, Internet download, POD, etc.) prior to 2016 are not eligible. All submissions must be made in bound hard copy form. Professional librarians select Winners and Finalists. Awards will be presented at the WWW annual conference in October, 2017.

Please obtain guidelines before entering. Complete award information and guidelines (including information for books published in electronic formats) are posted for downloading on the WWW web site: www.WomenWritingtheWest.org.

Contact WILLA Chair: Doris Baker at Doris@FilterPressBooks.com or by telephone at 719.481.2420.

 Complete one entry form per book entered
 Notate the category, author and title of each entry on checks

Please provide as much contact information as possible so that we may make appropriate notifications and/or request further information for promoting our award Winners and Finalists.
