

Application for 2021 WILLA Literary Awards

Capturing the Diversity of the Women's West

Honoring Books Published in 2020

Entry timeline: November 1, 2020 - February 1, 2021 ■ Application Fee - $65 per entry

The WILLA Literary Awards is a nationally recognized award given annually to writers for books featuring women's or girls' stories set in the West. Women Writing the West, a nonprofit association of writers and other professionals writing and promoting the Women's West, underwrites and presents the awards. Only books initially published and copyrighted in 2020 (in any form) are eligible for the WILLA Literary Awards. In cases where the publication date and copyright date differ, copyright date shall prevail. Books previously released/published in ANY format (hardcover, softcover, e-book, CD, Internet download, POD, etc.) prior to 2020 are not eligible. All submissions must be made in bound hard copy form. Professional librarians select Winners and Finalists. Awards will be presented at the WWW annual conference in October, 2021.

Please obtain guidelines before entering. Complete award information and guidelines (including information for books published in electronic formats) are posted for downloading on the WWW website: www.WomenWritingtheWest.org. Contact WILLA Chair: Amy Nowak at Amy@amynowak.com
